~~ Editorial ~~

Dear Reader,

Freedom is something that pretty much everyone wants. Freedom to speak, freedom to live and grow and enjoy life. Freedom to be themselves.

The applied philosophy of Lafayette Ron Hubbard, when used, does just that. It is not a system of belief, but a system of basic principles found to exist and which, when applied, help to enhance one's life.

Like anything else, one has to apply it correctly. Not fully understanding it or not taking the time to understand the very basics of Scientology can lead one into thinking it does not work and that unusually solutions to compensate for this are the order of the day.

In fact, it has been shown time and time again, that when the basic principles are applied, just as Hubbard researched and discovered, then the results are predictable and produce the exact results each time.

A world without war, fear, suppression and insanity is something that everyone deep down yearns for.

The applied philosophy of Lafayette Ron Hubbard is the route that can deliver that freedom.

The Aims of Scientology and the IFA

Lafayette Ron Hubbard first issued the 'Aims of Scientology' which of course still stands. Yet, despite holding a copyright on these aims the Church of Scientology, RTC and the CST do not appear to be following these aims fully. Therefore it behooves us to take some responsibility and set out our aims, based upon the aims that Ron first envisaged as something which we can honestly strive to attain.

We therefore stated below:

The Aims of the IFA

To contribute towards having a sane society by the promotion, expansion and application of the technology to the point where people can live their lives in peace and security and without war or insanity and where they can honestly flourish and prosper and attain higher levels of spiritual being.

The IFA is non political in nature and welcomes any individual of any creed, race or nation.

The IFA does not seek revolution. The IFA seeks only to assist in paving the way for evolution to higher states of being for the individual and for society. After endless millennia of ignorance about himself, his mind and the universe, a breakthrough has been made for man by Lafayette Ron Hubbard with the philosophy and the technology he developed to free man from the shackles of his mind.

According to Lafayette Ron Hubbard, "The combined truths of fifty thousand years of thinking men, distilled and amplified by new discoveries about man, have made for this success."

We welcome you to the IFA We would like your help in achieving our aims and helping others and we hope to be able to help you in return.

The original working technology of Lafayette Ron Hubbard is the most vital movement on Earth today. In a troubled world, the job of promoting and applying this technology is not easy. But then, if it were, we wouldn't have to be doing it.

The IFA does not owe its help not having done anything to caused it to propitiate. We are here because we want to be here and we want to assist Ron in his aims.

As Ron says:

"Man suspects all offers of help. He has often been betrayed, his confidence shattered. Too frequently he has given his trust and been betrayed. We may err, for we build a world with broken straws. But we will never betray your faith in us so long as you are one of us.

The sun never sets on Scientology.

And may a new day dawn for you, for those you love and for man.

Our aims are simple, if great.

And we will succeed, and are succeeding at each new revolution of the Earth.

Your help is acceptable to us.

Our help is yours."

COMMUNICATION BREAKS

A radio broadcast made on the 14th Feb 1951

One Side of the ARC Triangle

I would like to tell you more about the triangle of affinity, communication and reality, of which I have spoken before. The last time we talked about communication we learned how a persons communication lines can be shut off and he cannot give out as many communications as he should, and what the consequences are of cutting off communication. The ultimate is physical death.

The matter of communication is a very serious one. People who are wearing glasses have a break in communication—the communication between the outside world and their minds. It is something which makes it hard for them to see. Myopic astigmatism, unless caused by an accident, is a psychosomatic affair caused by the mind. There is a communication break relating to sight. Those breaks culminate in glasses.

Statements in engrams like “You just can’t see anything” will cause the command power to shut off vision. Those people who have achieved optimum personality often drop off the need for glasses.

The relation to reality as represented by glasses also has to do with a person’s other abilities to communicate. It has to do with seeing things mentally, with seeing the world around him.

There are other things such people are out of communication with. They will have some slight difficulty in talking. They have been pushed back by the people around them to the point where they are out of communication with them. For instance, the Japanese language is very difficult and subject to many misinterpretations. Glasses are very common in Japan.

Then there is the matter of hearing. Did you ever have a person around you who asked you to repeat? It is hard to get communication into them. They misunderstand what is told to them. People accuse them of wilfully misunderstanding, and that makes the matter worse. People comment on them, and that makes it worse.

Then there is stuttering. Very few cases of stuttering are due to physical defects. The little boy who stutters has been checked in talking and takes up a speech impediment. He has engrams very early in his life which tell him not to talk. You find stammering in families where people often tell each other to shut up. When the child is three or four years of age people but about life in general. He feels good toward tell him to shut up and this causes these early people. But as people come down on the tone moments of pain and discomfort to come in, scale you get shut-off. and he is unable to talk.

One little boy was a potential stammerer, and there was another little boy in the neighbourhood who did stammer. The first boy's mother told him not to copy the other little boy's stammering, and that shifted him into the little boy's valence. We found some early engrams that told him not to talk and to shut up. This child was also unable to take in communication.

He didn't listen. He had an interrupted communication line. He had an undercurrent of resentments against life. He didn't dare tell anybody. He didn't feel any large affection toward anyone. His sense of reality was very poor. His stammering and his inability to love went right along with his concept of reality.

When we consider the tone scale we find that on this tone scale the communication shifts. A person high on the tone scale can talk satisfactorily and make himself understood. He understands other people. You can count on this person's ability as far as liking people. He will have a good solid idea of what is real and what is unreal, what is true and what is false. He will be agreeable, not with irrational things,

High on the tone scale you have the artist. He is communicating in the broadest way to the people around him. He also appreciates art. As you start dropping down into anger, you find communication starting to be shut off and perverted. An angry person seldom tells the truth. His communication is a lie. A chronically angry person will twist a communication. Someone will phone him and say, "Aunt Lizzie got off the train yesterday and is very ill."

He will say, "Aunt Lizzie arrived yesterday, and Aunt Mamie made her sick."

His concept of things is very bad. This person does not like people. He doesn't have any concept of loving people. Lower on the scale you have a person who won't talk. He won't answer back. He is sullen. He isn't doing much loving and hasn't much in the way of reality.

This is all too frequent in our society. In the police state the communication is thoroughly cut and the result is a totalitarian state without affection.

~~ Lafayette Ron Hubbard Quote ~~

WHAT IS GREATNESS?

L. Ron Hubbard

The hardest task one can have is to continue to love one's fellows despite all reasons he should not.

And the true sign of sanity and greatness is to so continue.

For the one who can achieve this, there is abundant hope. For those who cannot, there is only sorrow, hatred and despair, and these are not the things of which greatness or sanity or happiness are made.

A primary trap is to succumb to invitations to hate. There are those who appoint one their executioners. Sometimes for the sake of the safety of others, it is necessary to act, but it is not necessary also to hate them.

To do one's task without becoming furious at others who seek to prevent one is a mark of greatness—and sanity. And only then can one be happy.

Seeking to achieve any single desirable quality in life is a noble thing. The one most difficult and most necessary to achieve is to love one's fellows despite all invitations to do otherwise.

If there is any saintly quality, it is not to forgive. "Forgiveness" is a much lower level action and is rather censorious.

True greatness merely refuses to change in the face of bad actions against one—and a truly great person loves his fellows because he understands them.

After all, they are all in the same trap. Some are oblivious of it, some have gone mad because of it, some act like those who betrayed them. But all, all are in the same trap—the generals, the street sweepers, the presidents, the insane. They act the way they do because they are all subject to the same cruel pressures of this universe.

Some of us are subject to those pressures and still go on doing our jobs. Others have long since succumbed and rave and torture and strut like the demented souls they are.

To re-save some of them is a dangerous undertaking. Were you to approach many ruling heads in the world and offer to set them free (as only a Scientologist can) they would go berserk, cry up their private police and generally cause unpleasantness. Indeed, one did—he was later assassinated by no desire of ours but because of the incompetence of his own fellows about him. He could have used Scientology. Instead, he promptly tried to shoot it down by ordering raids and various berserk actions on Scientology organizations. That he was then shot had nothing to do with us, but only demonstrated how incompetent and how mortal he really was.

As we become stronger, we can be completely openhanded with our help. Until we do, we can at least understand the one fact that greatness does not stem from savage wars or being known. It stems from being true to one's own decency, from going on helping others whatever they do or think or say and despite all savage acts against one; to persevere without changing one's basic attitude toward Man.

A fully trained Scientologist is in a far better position to understand than a partly trained one. For the Scientologist who really knows is able not only to retain confidence in himself and what he can do, but also can understand why others do what they do and so knowing, does not become baffled or dismayed by small defeats. To that degree, true greatness depends on total wisdom. They act as they do because they are what they are—trapped beings, crushed beneath an intolerable burden. And if they have gone mad for it and command the devastation of whole nations in errors of explanation, still one can understand why and can understand as well the extent of their madness. Why should one change and begin to hate just because others have lost themselves and their own destinies are too cruel for them to face.

Justice, mercy, forgiveness, all are unimportant beside the ability not to change because of provocation or demands to do so.

One must act, one must preserve order and decency, but one need not hate or seek vengeance. It is true that beings are frail and commit wrongs. Man is basically good but can act badly.

He only acts badly when his acts done for order and the safety of others are done with hatred. Or when his disciplines are founded only upon safety for himself regardless of all others; or worse, when he acts only out of a taste for cruelty.

To preserve no order at all is an insane act. One need only look at the possessions and environment of the insane to realize this. The able keep good order.

When cruelty in the name of discipline dominates a race, that race has been taught to hate. And that race is doomed.

The real lesson is to learn to love.

He who would walk scathe less through his day must learn this.

Never use what is done to one as a basis for hatred. Never desire revenge.

It requires real strength to love Man. And to love him despite all invitations to do otherwise, all provocations and all reasons why one should not.

Happiness and strength endure only in the absence of hate. To hate alone is the road to disaster. To love is the road to strength. To love in spite of all is the secret of greatness. And may very well be the greatest secret in this universe.

Once Upon a Time in Scientology

Once upon a time, many years ago, the Church of Scientology used to be the place to go to study the Scientology philosophy. Many thousands of people did so and became scientologists enjoying the benefits obtained from the original philosophy just as Ron Hubbard developed it.

Unfortunately however, since the demise of Hubbard in the early 80s this is no longer the case. Times change and the church has changed. New management has resulted in a different Scientology being promoted. Alterations to the original philosophy developed by Hubbard have been documented and are easily seen by comparisons between the originally issued materials and the latest issues of the same materials.

Nowadays, to get the original philosophy, you now have to go to independent Scientology groups such as the International Freezone Association (IFA) for example. The IFA is a group of independent Scientologists who prefers to stick with the philosophy as originally developed by Hubbard rather than the later 'updated' version currently followed by the Church.

Often regarded as a splinter group by the church, the IFA and its members follow the original teachings of Hubbard based on the original philosophy which Hubbard researched and developed which was so successful in the period up to the early 80s to give to people the best possible way of improving their lives. This is distinct to the 'updated' improved Johnny come lately version the church espouses.

The IFA operates outside of the church and has a list of members who are practitioners of the original philosophy. "We believe that the church has deteriorated since the demise of the Founder, and has taken to practicing a radically altered version of the original philosophy resulting in a more dissatisfied public and poor public relations," said Michael, President of the IFA in an interview recently. "As a result there is now a niche for the person wishing to get back to basics and study the original philosophy and the IFA is here to fill that niche." He said. "We are only interested in, what is known in Scientology circles as, standard technology, which basically means the 'original applied working philosophy' just as Hubbard developed it."

"There are two distinct scientologies now" he went on. "The Church of Scientology and the International Freezone Association".

The IFA has a website at <http://internationalfreezone.net> from which further information may be obtained about the original philosophy of Scientology.

Wins & Success Stories from the Independent Scientology Freezone

We get many success stories in the Free-zone of auditing, training and even just from reading Lafayette Ron Hubbard Books!

Here is just a small selection.

A personal message from a new CLEAR

So, do you want to clear the planet? I went clear recently; it is awesome.

As soon as I attested, I called one of my past auditors - I've had several over the years - and I let this person know my status. I was congratulated on sticking it out and pushing through. My immediate thought was, "Of course I did, who else? My eternity doesn't rely on anyone else but me."

I made the decision that although I wanted the very best, it didn't matter to me if the auditor's TRs weren't perfect, because this was about ME. It didn't matter if there were flubs, because this was about ME. It didn't matter what obstacles were in the way, because this was about ME. Nobody and nothing was going to stop ME and I wasn't going to cause my own H.E. & R. No shame, blame or regrets. This was me going in and me coming out the other side.

It is Ethics. Ethics are applied when tech doesn't go in, and these Ethics were applied by ME for ME to ME to get the tech in.

Guess what? I'm Clear!

Ethics are applied by one's self to one's self; it's that simple. Nobody gets you through but you. Now I have been very fortunate that I have had wonderful auditors, and although the auditor is there to help guide you through your session until you hit the mark where your case doesn't overpower you anymore, the decision to be there and make it go right is yours to make and yours alone; if not, it is other-intentionedness.

Clearing the planet is actually a simple plan: Decide to go clear yourself. Find the material to learn the tech. Begin learning the tech. Find an auditor and get audited; there are many, many auditors in the field twiddling their thumbs right now just waiting for someone to audit. Learn the tech while being audited. Don't stop.

Or, find two other people with the same decision you've made and round robin with each other and get with it. If you need a case supervisor, there are many of those available in the field, too.

All it takes to have church services is two to three people.

Ethics is something you can't enforce on another. If you do, it's not ethics, it's morals and, again, an other-intentionedness that will backfire, always. If your twin's ethics go out and they don't stick with it, the revolving door policy applies.

I am not saying to dump your twin at the first sign of trouble as that would be, hopefully, out-ethics for you. Of course you must be responsible and see if you need to help them get their misunderstood words handled or any other possible issues, and let them know that you are there for them to help them make it. But you are the one that has to be on the alert to whether they are applying their ethics and working through their issues, whatever they may be.

Keep in mind that YOU are the one getting YOU through, and if someone you've begun the process with doesn't have the ethics presence to keep going, give them a chance to get right by first applying the correct condition to yourself of having someone around that is keeping you from succeeding. Keep things in context: Help get your twin through in order to get you through. If you're not getting through, look to your own ethics FIRST, spot the out-point and handle it so you are moving! Remember that if you're not moving it is YOU that is not moving; handle YOU. Let your twin know that you need to get on with it and are allowing them to get moving with the process you began or you will have to let them go; this is you applying ethics to you and your condition, not you applying ethics to your twin and their condition. Remember, if you don't spot the correct ethics condition of another and act accordingly by applying the appropriate ethics condition to yourself, you end up below the other's condition.

If it seems like a lot of trouble to have a revolving door policy, then you are running a scarcity of good twins that are anxious to get on with it; don't do that to yourself! Also, it would be a good thing to give this datum to your twin so that you can both be putting your ethics in and then you'll both be on the same track and winning!

Are you ready to clear the planet? OK! Assuming you are, you need to overcome a major obstacle: Being stopped. Clearing the planet needs YOU to be clear, because without you being clear, the planet wouldn't be a clear planet (duh!). Take responsibility and get thee clear then help someone else get through the process!!

The bottom line is (although possibly distasteful for you to assume responsibility for) no one in the church has ever stopped you. It doesn't matter one bit what someone in the church has done. The simplicity is that if you're stopped then YOU are stopped; take responsibility and stop stopping yourself!

The tech is out there, all of it, and it has been for decades. If you aren't clear or on your way, it is you and only you that is in your way. Do you need a large group? Do you need a meeting place? Do you need large buildings? Do you need someone in "authority" giving you acknowledgements? Do you need a church?! I have seen many people spend a lot of time saying this and that about this dead horse. It is as simple as this: As long as you can hold church services, there is a church, and all it takes is two to three people to hold services.

Do it!

The more one holds onto the buildings and is afraid of them crumbling or when one spends energy destroying them, or the more one holds onto the feigned "authority" or the feeling of safety from 'the group', etc., the less they are on the road to freedom because their attention is elsewhere. People put ethics in on themselves naturally. It has been said that a sup-pressive will always do themselves in. There is no longer a need to beat this dead horse. Let it fall. The church is dead, long live the church!

So, what are you doing still reading this?

Stop futzing around!

Get with it!!

CLEAR

Talk about dropping weight!! The machinery is gone, and the relief is indescribable! My body doesn't know what to do with itself, because there's no more bank telling it what to do.

As for me, I have arrived. As a being, I have spent soooooo many eons using the bank that it is taking me a while to adjust to not having that "trip mechanism" in place (I'll get over it!)

And then there's the calmness. Things are things and people are people. I no longer "have" to do anything. No pushing, no nudging, no "have" to do anything.

The best part is space. Lots and lots of space. I can create space - space and time.

WOW!!! Space and time are not creating me anymore, I create them!

Stable. Stability comes when you are not knocking yourself off of your own feet. I have been kicking myself for eons and the mechanism I've been doing that action with is gone.

The outside force that had been knocking me down was me (oops)! I got it!!!

This equals cause. This is allowing me to expand my space and time and be cause, not have space and time be cause over me.

Thank you to everybody that was there to help - wonderful auditing by great beings!! Yeah!!! Bill

ARC S/W

"I feel I love myself more and everyone around me. I have more willingness to understand and explore my past, present and future.

After the process of ARC S/W, I found out a lot of incidents which I think that "I don't care anymore" were handled one by one, and the past experience with dust became the wind of spring, very specially light.

I know in the future I still have a long way to go, but I don't worry anymore and don't feel afraid. I have tools, have certain way to go for life; it's a happy thing. This process helped me confront my past more easily, and confront my life and myself. Finally I see the sun behind the cloud. And it's good." VK

Other Auditing

"Repair: I feel great, I feel at peace. I am looking ahead and it's full of hope and good things. Thanks, Chris, for being such a competent auditor. ARC,"

"I just have to tell you that I am getting tremendous wins with S/A. My confront has come way, way up and so has my mood and my memory. I'm now having random thoughts of fun things I've done and of things I've done right and of people I've enjoyed and people who have enjoyed my company. I am remembering things I forgot I knew.

I remembered today of a time when I filled the entire kitchen and part of the front yard and I remember a time when doing an investigation for CCHR, I could see the loading docks in back of the hospital with a white truck being backed into the dock, and I could see that my patient wasn't coming out the hospital that way... and I did this while sitting and waiting for her in the lobby. Having those abilities and not always in my body, that's what I meant when I said I used to be able to fly, but when I met you I could barely amble.

Damn it Diana! Everybody should do S/A if they're not on the Bridge. Everybody! Just think what a great place this would be with everyone sane for a change. That's it. I wanted you to know." R.

I haven't associated with the FZ for very long now, but in that time, my wins have exceeded the gains I made in all previous auditing and training before.

All the data I have learned about the church I formerly associated with has put me at a cause point that was unexpected by me. I'll never again be persuaded that My code of Honor should be chucked because somebody says so. I evaluate data for myself where I would previously have been susceptible to accepting some or another authorities' evaluations.

My perceptions have multiplied exponentially. My ARC has improved markedly. My purpose has been fully restored. I'm doing better than I have in several decades.

I'm very curious about what will happen when I actually start back on the bridge proper next week.

Yes, after having been stopped on the bridge for more than 2 decades, I am being set up for co-auditing this weekend by our very own Chris, CL VIII C/S.

And it's not just me. 6 others are also getting back on the bridge after having been stopped in one way or another for between 2 and 25 years.

I think that is fantastic, and evidence that there are those among us who don't make much noise, but just quietly march people along on the right path.

Thanks Chris, for taking an interest and caring for others. You ARE the man.

And also not previously mentioned, is the fact that I came to Chris for help when my daughter seemed bent on self destruction after her encounter and subsequent enturbation with the Church of Scientology. Chris stepped in and pulled her right out of the muck she was piling on herself as fast as her little beams could carry it in.

She is now bright, forward looking, employed full time, thinking about finishing her education, and participating in the co-audit group.

ARC:

A word made from the initial letters of Affinity, Reality and Communication which together are considered to equal understanding. ARC is pronounced as three letters A-R-C.

Scientologist

1. one who betters the conditions of himself and the conditions of others by using Scn technology.
2. one who controls persons, environments and situations. A Scientologist operates with the boundaries of the Auditor's Code and the Code of a Scientologist.
3. one who understands life. His technical skill is devoted to the resolution of the problems of life.
4. A specialist in spiritual and human affairs.

Religion, 1. The ritual of worship or regard about spiritual matters. 2. A study of wisdom. 3. The word religion itself can embrace sacred lore, wisdom, knowingness of gods and souls and spirits, and could be called, with very broad use of the word, a philosophy. We could say there is religious philosophy and there is religious practice.

Religious Philosophy, implies study of spiritual manifestations: research on the nature of the spirit and study on the relationship of the spirit to the body; exercises devoted to the rehabilitation of abilities in a spirit. Religious Practice, implies ritual, faith-in, doctrine based on a catechism* and a creed.
